An aerial photograph of a city at dusk. The sky is a deep blue, and the city lights are beginning to glow. A large, modern hotel complex with multiple wings and a parking lot is the central focus. A large, stylized red bracket is superimposed over the hotel, framing the text "Hotel Chains" which is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font. The surrounding city consists of various buildings, streets, and palm trees, all rendered in a slightly desaturated, blue-toned aesthetic.
